

beauty from ashes

trusting God with all your life

Trusting God with our entire life is a life-long journey. Sure we can trust Him when things are going well and when the blessings are flowing freely like our morning cup of joe.

But what happens when things take a turn for the worse and the unthinkable happens. Despite our heartfelt prayers for help and mercy, sometimes things turn out differently than we hope or want.

Are we willing to trust God with all of our life and believe he can bring beauty even from the ashes? Can God really bring healing and beauty from the broken shattered places deep inside?

Kristin Aaron is no stranger to the extreme ups and downs life can bring your way. Her family's normal life flipped upside down when their son Jenson was diagnosed as a baby with a rare life threatening disease. Over the course of three years, Jenson would endure 55 rounds of chemo, countless medical procedures and mistakes, and receive a bone marrow transplant from his five year old sister Sydney.

Jenson would eventually leave this world for his eternal home. And Kristin would discover firsthand what it means to find healing in the midst of our deepest pain.

God can bring beauty from our ashes (if we let Him). Let Kristin inspire your audience to embrace this truth in their lives too.

"Kristin has a God given gift to take her heartbreaking story and use it to inspire and encourage others to dig deep and find new resolve and purpose from their pain. I can't speak highly enough about her."

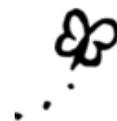

- Tatum Lindberg, Director of Women's Ministry, Life Fellowship Church McKinney, TX

"What an awesome night! Kristin needs to go on tour speaking her message. She's a pro! There was not a dry eye in the room, but I'm willing to bet there was not one heart that wasn't touched!" - Amanda

"My heart needed that!" - Shandra

Kristin Aaron is an inspirational speaker, writer, and leader with a passion for inspiring growth.

To book a speaking engagement, visit www.kristinaaron.com or email kristin@kristinaaron.com